You have studied in the first lesson about the business, its significance and the classification of business activities. You are also aware that these activities are carried out by individuals in an organised form of a business house having different patterns of ownership and management. A single individual may own the business or a number of individuals may come together to own the business jointly. So, based on ownership, we have different forms of business organisation like a proprietary concern, a partnership firm or a company. In this lesson, you will learn about the various forms of business organisation (excluding a joint stock company), their characteristics, merits and limitations, suitability and the steps involved in their formation.

Objectives

After studying this lesson, you will be able to:

- explain the concept of business organisation;
- state the meaning and characteristics of Sole Proprietorship, Partnership, Joint Hindu Family Business and Cooperative Societies.
- identify the merits and limitations of these forms of business organisation;
- describe the suitability of these forms of business organisation; and
- explain the steps in the formation of these business organisation.

5.1 Business Organisation

You have already learnt about the meaning of business and the various types of business activities like industry, trade, transport, banking, insurance etc. If you observe these business activities carefully, you will realise that whatever business activity one may take up, he has to bring together various resources like men, money, materials, machines, technology, etc. to carry out that activity successfully. Not only that these resources are to be put into action in a systematic manner to achieve the objectives of business.

Let us take the example of a rice mill. First, the owner will have to acquire a land, construct a building, buy machines and install them, employ labour to work, buy paddy and then process the paddy to produce rice that will be sold to the customers. Thus, to produce rice from paddy you need to assemble resources like land, building, machinery, labour etc., and put these resources together in action in a systematic way. Then only it becomes possible to produce rice and sell it to the customers, and earn profit.

Thus, to carry out any business and achieve its objective of earning profit it is required to bring together all the resources and put them into action in a systematic way, and coordinate and control these activities properly. This arrangement is known as business organisation.

5.2 Forms of Business Organisation

Have you ever thought who brings the required capital, takes the responsibility of arranging other resources, puts them into action, and coordinates and controls the activities to earn the desired profits? If you look around, you will find that a small grocery shop is owned and run by a single individual who performs all these activities. But, in big businesses, it may not be possible for a single person to perform all these activities. So in such cases two or more persons join hands to finance and manage the business properly and share its profit as per their agreement. Thus, business organisations may be owned and managed by a single individual or group of individuals who may form a partnership firm or a joint stock company. Such arrangement of ownership and management is termed as a form of business organisation. A business organisation usually takes the following forms in India:

1. Sole proprietorship
2. Partnership
3. Joint Hindu Family
4. Cooperative Society
5. Joint Stock Company

Let us now learn in detail the exact nature of these forms of business organisation, excluding Joint Stock Company which will be taken up in the next lesson.

5.3 Sole Proprietorship

Gopal runs a grocery shop in the local market. He buys goods from the wholesale market and sells it to the customers as per their requirement. By doing so he earns some profit. He had started his business two years ago by investing Rs. 1 lakh, which he had borrowed from his friend. Today, he is running his business successfully, earning a good profit, and has been able to pay back the borrowed money. He has also employed two persons to help him in the shop. Gopal says, he is the owner of a sole proprietor concern.

Do you agree?

Before giving answer to this question, let us first know the exact nature of ‘sole proprietorship’.

The term ‘sole’ means single and ‘proprietorship’ means ‘ownership’. So, only one person is the owner of the business organisation. This means, that a form of business organisation in which a single individual owns and manages the business, takes the profits and bears the losses, is known as sole proprietorship form of business organisation.

Gopal is doing exactly the same thing. So, you can say that Gopal is running a sole proprietorship business, and is known as a sole proprietor or a sole trader.

You must have seen many more such business organisations in and around your locality. Could you now make a list of such concerns engaged in different types of businesses?

Definition of Sole Proprietorship

J.L. Hanson: “A type of business unit where one person is solely responsible for providing the capital and bearing the risk of the enterprise, and for the management of the business.”

Thus, ‘Sole Proprietorship’ form of business organisation refers to a business enterprise exclusively owned, managed and controlled by a single person with all authority, responsibility and risk.

Now you can workout certain characteristics of sole proprietorship form of business organisation.

5.3.1 Characteristics of Sole Proprietorship Form of Business Organisation

(a) Single Ownership: The sole proprietorship form of business organisation has a single owner who himself/herself starts the business by bringing together all the resources.

(b) No Separation of Ownership and Management: The owner himself/herself manages the business as per his/her own skill and intelligence. There is no separation of ownership and management as is the case with company form of business organisation.
(c) Less Legal Formalities: The formation and operation of a sole proprietorship form of business organisation does not involve any legal formalities. Thus, its formation is quite easy and simple.

(d) No Separate Entity: The business unit does not have an entity separate from the owner. The businessman and the business enterprise are one and the same, and the businessman is responsible for everything that happens in his business unit.

(e) No Sharing of Profit and Loss: The sole proprietor enjoys the profits alone. At the same time, the entire loss is also borne by him. No other person is there to share the profits and losses of the business. He alone bears the risks and reaps the profits.

(f) Unlimited Liability: The liability of the sole proprietor is unlimited. In case of loss, if his business assets are not enough to pay the business liabilities, his personal property can also be utilised to pay off the liabilities of the business.

(g) One-man Control: The controlling power of the sole proprietorship business always remains with the owner. He/she runs the business as per his/her own will.

Gopal is happy in running his business in sole proprietorship form because he enjoys many benefits in doing this business. At the same time, he also comes across many difficulties. Would you like to know the merits and limitations of this form of business organisation? Let us discuss.

5.3.2 Merits of Sole Proprietorship Form of Business Organisation

(a) Easy to Form and Wind Up: It is very easy and simple to form a sole proprietorship form of business organisation. No legal formalities are required to be observed. Similarly, the business can be wind up any time if the proprietor so decides.

(b) Quick Decision and Prompt Action: As stated earlier, nobody interferes in the affairs of the sole proprietary organisation. So he/she can take quick decisions on the various issues relating to business and accordingly prompt action can be taken.

(c) Direct Motivation: In sole proprietorship form of business organisations, the entire profit of the business goes to the owner. This motivates the proprietor to work hard and run the business efficiently.

(d) Flexibility in Operation: It is very easy to effect changes as per the requirements of the business. The expansion or curtailment of business activities does not require many formalities as in the case of other forms of business organisation.

(e) Maintenance of Business Secrets: The business secrets are known only to the proprietor. He is not required to disclose any information to others unless and until he himself so decides. He is also not bound to publish his business accounts.

(f) Personal Touch: Since the proprietor himself handles everything relating to business, it is easy to maintain a good personal contact with the customers and employees. By knowing the likes, dislikes and tastes of the customers, the proprietor can adjust his... operations accordingly. Similarly, as the employees are few and work directly under the proprietor, it helps in maintaining a harmonious relationship with them, and run the business smoothly.

After knowing the various merits of sole proprietorship form of business organisation let us discuss its limitations.

5.3.3 LIMITATIONS OF SOLE PROPRIETORSHIP FORM OF BUSINESS ORGANISATION

(a) Limited Resources: The resources of a sole proprietor are always limited. Being the single owner it is not always possible to arrange sufficient funds from his own sources. Again borrowing funds from friends and relatives or from banks has its own implications. So, the proprietor has a limited capacity to raise funds for his business.

(b) Lack of Continuity: The continuity of the business is linked with the life of the proprietor. Illness, death or insolvency of the proprietor can lead to closure of the business. Thus, the continuity of business is uncertain.

(c) Unlimited Liability: You have already learnt that there is no separate entity of the business from its owner. In the eyes of law the proprietor and the business are one and the same. So personal properties of the owner can also be used to meet the business obligations and debts.

(d) Not Suitable for Large Scale Operations: Since the resources and the managerial ability is limited, sole proprietorship form of business organisation is not suitable for large-scale business.

(e) Limited Managerial Expertise: A sole proprietorship from of business organisation always suffers from lack of managerial expertise. A single person may not be an expert in all fields like, purchasing, selling, financing etc. Again, because of limited financial resources, and the size of the business it is also not possible to engage the professional managers in sole proprietorship form of business organisations.

Now you must have a clear idea about Gopal’s business and its merits and limitations. Take the example of any other sole proprietorship form of business organisation of your locality analyse its activities and try to find out whether the points discussed above are applicable to it or not. Application of book knowledge in real life situations will definitely help you to comprehend and remember the facts about sole proprietorship form of business organisation in a better way.

5.3.4 SUITABILITY OF SOLE PROPRIETORSHIP FORM OF BUSINESS ORGANISATION

You learnt about the meaning, characteristics, merits and limitations of sole proprietorship form of business organisations. After such a detailed study, it should now be easier for you to identify areas in which sole proprietorship form of business organisation is most suitable.
To assist you in such exercise, it can be stated that the sole proprietorship is suitable where the market is limited, localised and the customers give importance to personal attention. It is also considered suitable where the capital requirement is small and risk involved is limited. It is also considered suitable for the production of goods and services which involve manual skill e.g., handicrafts, filigree work, jewelry, tailoring, haircutting etc.

Move around your locality and make a list of different types of business being run by sole proprietors and then categories them under the above points.

5.3.5 FORMATION OF SOLE PROPRIETORSHIP FORM OF BUSINESS ORGANISATION

It is very simple to establish a sole proprietary concern. Any person who is willing to start a business and has the necessary resources can set up this form of business organisation. To start and operate the business in this form, practically does not require any legal formalities to be fulfilled. In some cases like restaurant, chemist shop etc. however, permission from the competent authority is required to be obtained before starting the business. Similarly, setting up a factory may involve taking permission from the local authority. But, formation of business unit as such does not involve any complexities.

5.4 PARTNERSHIP

A textile factory is going to be started in the nearby area where Gopal is carrying on his business. As a businessman, he is now in a jubilant mood. He is thinking that once the textile factory is set up, he will get more customers; the sales will increase and he will earn more profit. But, for all these, he will have to expand his business, and for this he needs more money.

The major problem is how to arrange the additional funds. He has the option of getting loans from the banks. But the fear of loss comes to his mind again and again. He does not want to take that risk. Another option is that he may join hands with some other person. By doing so, more resources can be raised, work can be shared, and business can be run in a better way. The risk of loss will also be shared. But this involves a new form of business organisation known as Partnership organisation. Gopal has to gain clarity on the exact nature of this form of business organisation, its pros and cons before he goes in for it.

‘Partnership’ is an association of two or more persons who pool their financial and managerial resources and agree to carry on a business, and share its profit. The persons who form a partnership are individually known as partners and collectively a firm or partnership firm.

Let’s assume that Gopal joins hand with Rahim to start a big grocery shop. Here both Gopal and Rahim are called partners who are running the partnership firm jointly. Both of them will pool their resources and carry on business by applying their expertise. They will share the profits and losses in the agreed ratio. In fact, for all terms and conditions of their working, they have to sit together to decide about all aspects. There must be an agreement between them. The agreement may be in oral, written or implied. When the agreement is in writing it is termed as partnership deed. However, in the absence of an agreement, the provisions of the Indian Partnership Act 1932 shall apply.

Partnership form of business organisation in India is governed by the Indian Partnership Act, 1932 which defines partnership as “the relation between persons who have agreed to share the profits of the business carried on by all or any of them acting for all”.

5.4.1 Characteristics of Partnership Form of Business Organisation

Based on the definition of partnership as given above, the various characteristics of partnership form of business organisation, can be summarised as follows:

(a) Two or More Persons: To form a partnership firm at least two persons are required. The maximum limit on the number of persons is ten for banking business and 20 for other businesses. If the number exceeds the above limit, the partnership becomes illegal and the relationship among them cannot be called partnership.

(b) Contractual Relationship: Partnership is created by an agreement among the persons who have agreed to join hands. Such persons must be competent to contract. Thus, minors, lunatics and insolvent persons are not eligible to become the partners. However, a minor can be admitted to the benefits of partnership firm i.e., he can have share in the profits without any obligation for losses.

(c) Sharing Profits and Business: There must be an agreement among the partners to share the profits and losses of the business of the partnership firm. If two or more persons share the income of jointly owned property, it is not regarded as partnership.

(d) Existence of Lawful Business: The business of which the persons have agreed to share the profit must be lawful. Any agreement to indulge in smuggling, black marketing etc. cannot be called partnership business in the eyes of law.

(e) Principal Agent Relationship: There must be an agency relationship between the partners. Every partner is the principal as well as the agent of the firm. When a partner deals with other parties he/she acts as an agent of other partners, and at the same time the other partners become the principal.

(f) Unlimited Liability: The partners of the firm have unlimited liability. They are jointly as well as individually liable for the debts and obligations of the firms. If the assets of the firm are insufficient to meet the firm’s liabilities, the personal properties of the partners can also be utilised for this purpose. However, the liability of a minor partner is limited to the extent of his share in the profits.

(g) Voluntary Registration: The registration of partnership firm is not compulsory. But an unregistered firm suffers from some limitations which makes it virtually compulsory to be registered. Following are the limitations of an unregistered firm.

   (i) The firm cannot sue outsiders, although the outsiders can sue it.

   (ii) In case of any dispute among the partners, it is not possible to settle the dispute through court of law.

   (iii) The firm cannot claim adjustments for amount payable to, or receivable from, any other parties.
5.4.2 Merits of Partnership Form of Business Organisation

(a) Easy to Form: A partnership can be formed easily without many legal formalities. Since it is not compulsory to get the firm registered, a simple agreement, either in oral, writing or implied is sufficient to create a partnership firm.

(b) Availability of Larger Resources: Since two or more partners join hands to start partnership firm it may be possible to pool more resources as compared to sole proprietorship form of business organisation.

(c) Better Decisions: In partnership firm each partner has a right to take part in the management of the business. All major decisions are taken in consultation with and with the consent of all partners. Thus, collective wisdom prevails and there is less scope for reckless and hasty decisions.

(d) Flexibility: The partnership firm is a flexible organisation. At any time the partners can decide to change the size or nature of business or area of its operation after taking the necessary consent of all the partners.

(e) Sharing of Risks: The losses of the firm are shared by all the partners equally or as per the agreed ratio.

(f) Keen Interest: Since partners share the profit and bear the losses, they take keen interest in the affairs of the business.

(g) Benefits of Specialisation: All partners actively participate in the business as per their specialisation and knowledge. In a partnership firm providing legal consultancy to people, one partner may deal with civil cases, one in criminal cases, another in labour cases and so on as per their area of specialisation. Similarly two or more doctors of different specialisation may start a clinic in partnership.

(h) Protection of Interest: In partnership form of business organisation, the rights of each partner and his/her interests are fully protected. If a partner is dissatisfied with any decision, he can ask for dissolution of the firm or can withdraw from the partnership.

(i) Secrecy: Business secrets of the firm are only known to the partners. It is not required to disclose any information to the outsiders. It is also not mandatory to publish the annual accounts of the firm.

Having learnt about the nature and merits of the partnership form of business organisation, now Gopal has decided to expand his business by starting a partnership form of business. One day, in a happy mood, he met Rahim (who also runs a grocery shop in the same locality) and explained to him about the concept, characteristics and merits of partnership form of business organisation. Rahim heard Gopal very carefully and asked Gopal about the limitations (if any) of this form of business organisation. Gopal had no idea about any limitations. Let him now have an idea about the limitations of partnership form of business organisation.
5.4.3 LIMITATIONS OF PARTNERSHIP FORM OF BUSINESS ORGANISATION

A partnership firm also suffers from certain limitations. These are as follows:

(a) Unlimited Liability: The most important drawback of partnership firm is that the liability of the partners is unlimited i.e., the partners are personally liable for the debt and obligations of the firm. In other words, their personal property can also be utilised for payment of firm’s liabilities.

(b) Instability: Every partnership firm has uncertain life. The death, insolvency, incapacity or the retirement of any partner brings the firm to an end. Not only that any dissenting partner can give notice at any time for dissolution of partnership.

(c) Limited Capital: Since the total number of partners cannot exceed 20, the capacity to raise funds remains limited as compared to a joint stock company where there is no limit on the number of share holders.

(d) Non-transferability of share: The share of interest of any partner cannot be transferred to other partners or to the outsiders. So it creates inconvenience for the partner who wants to transfer his share to others fully and partly. The only alternative is dissolution of the firm.

(e) Possibility of Conflicts: You know that in partnership firm every partner has an equal right to participate in the management. Also every partner can place his or her opinion or viewpoint before the management regarding any matter at any time. Because of this, sometimes there is friction and quarrel among the partners. Difference of opinion may give rise to quarrels and lead to dissolution of the firm.

5.4.4 TYPES OF PARTNERS

You have learnt that normally every partner in a firm contributes to its capital, participates in the day-to-day management of firm’s activities, and shares its profits and losses in the agreed ratio. In other words all partners are supposed to be active partners. However, in certain cases there are partners who play a limited role. They may contribute capital and such partners cannot be termed as active partners. Similarly, some persons may simply lend their name to the firm and make no contribution to capital of the firm. Such persons are partners only in name. Thus, depending upon the extent of participation and the sharing of profits, liability etc., partners can be classified into various categories. These are summarised here under.

(A) Based on the extent of participation in the day-to-day management of the firm, partners can be classified as ‘Active Partners’ and ‘Sleeping Partners’. The partners who actively participate in the day-to-day operations of the business are known as active partners or working partners. Those partners who do not participate in the day-to-day activities of the business are known as sleeping or dormant partners. Such partners simply contribute capital and share the profits and losses.

(B) Based on sharing of profits, the partners may be classified as ‘Nominal Partners’ and ‘Partners in Profits’. Nominal partners allow the firm to use their name as partner.
They neither invest any capital nor participate in the day-to-day operations. They are not entitled to share the profits of the firm. However, they are liable to third parties for all the acts of the firm. A person who shares the profits of the business without being liable for the losses is known as partner in profits. This is applicable only to the minors who are admitted to the benefits of the firm and their liability is limited to their capital contribution.

(C) Based on Liability, the partners can be classified as ‘Limited Partners’ and ‘General Partners’. The liability of limited partners is limited to the extent of their capital contribution. This type of partners is found in Limited Partnership firms in some European countries and USA. So far, it is not allowed in India. However, the Limited liability Partnership Act is very much under consideration of the Parliament. The partners having unlimited liability are called as general partners or Partners with unlimited liability. It may be noted that every partner who is not a limited partner is treated as a general partner.

(D) Based on the behaviour and conduct exhibited, there are two more types of partners besides the ones discussed above. These are (a) Partner by Estoppel; and (b) Partner by Holding out. A person who behaves in the public in such a way as to give an impression that he/she is a partner of the firm, is called ‘partner by estoppel’. Such partners are not entitled to share the profits of the firm, but are fully liable if some body suffers because of his/her false representation. Similarly, if a partner or partnership firm declares that a particular person is a partner of their firm, and such a person does not disclaim it, then he/she is known as ‘Partner by Holding out’. Such partners are not entitled to profits but are fully liable as regards the firm’s debts.

One of Gopal’s friends Rahul comes to his shop and sits there for hours together. In Gopal’s absence, he attends to the customers and deals with his suppliers. Under the impression that Rahul is a partner (although he is not), a supplier finalised a deal which Gopal does not accept. In the process, the supplier suffers some loss. Can he claim the compensation from Rahul? What type of partner Rahul is?
5.4.5 Suitability of Partnership Form of Business Organisation

We have already learnt that persons having different ability, skill or expertise can join hands to form a partnership firm to carry on the business. Business activities like construction, providing legal services, medical services etc. can be successfully run under this form of business organisation. It is also considered suitable where capital requirement is of a medium size. Thus, business like a wholesale trade, professional services, mercantile houses and small manufacturing units can be successfully run by partnership firms.

5.4.6 Formation of Partnership Form of Business Organisation

The following steps are to be taken in order to form a partnership firm:

(a) Minimum two members are required to form a partnership. The maximum limit is ten in banking and 20 in other businesses.

(b) Select the like-minded persons keeping in view the nature and objectives of the business.

(c) There must be an agreement among the partners to carry on the business and share the profits and losses. This agreement must preferably be in writing and duly signed by all the partners. The agreement, i.e., the partnership deed must contain the following:
   (i) Name of the firm
   (ii) Nature of the business
   (iii) Names and addresses of partners
   (iv) Location of business
   (v) Duration of partnership, if decided
   (vi) Amount of capital to be contributed by each partner
   (vii) Profit and loss sharing ratio
   (viii) Duties, powers and obligations of partners.
   (ix) Salaries and withdrawals of the partners
   (x) Preparation of accounts and their auditing.
   (xi) Procedure for dissolution of the firm etc.
   (xii) Procedure for settlement of disputes

(d) The partners should get their firm registered with the Registrar of Firms of the concerned state. Although registration is not compulsory, but to avoid the consequences of non-registration, it is advisable to get it registered when it is setup or at any time during its existence. The procedure for registration of a firm is as follows.
   (i) The firm will have to apply to the Registrar of Firms of the concerned state in the prescribed form.
   (ii) The duly filled in form must be signed by all the partners.
(iii) The filled in form along with prescribed registration fee must be deposited in the office of the Registrar of Firms.

(iv) The Registrar will scrutinise the application, and if he is satisfied that all formalities relating to registration have been duly complied with, he will put the name of the firm in his register and issue the Certificate of Registration.

Gopal is now running the partnership firm along with Rahim as a partner. They are earning good profit and managing their business smoothly.

Gopal’s father also runs a wholesale business in the same locality. That business was earlier being managed by Gopal’s grand father. One-day Gopal’s father revealed that Gopal and his younger brother and sister have an equal share in his wholesale business. It is a family business and Gopal can continue his own partnership business without losing his position in this family business. Gopal was confused. His father explained to him that under Hindu Law it is a Joint Hindu Family business. Let us know in detail about Joint Hindu Family form of business organisation.

5.5 Joint Hindu Family Form of Business Organisation

After knowing about sole proprietorship and partnership forms of business organisation let us now discuss about a unique form of business organisation that prevails only in India and that too among the Hindus. The Joint Hindu Family (JHF) business is a form of business organisation run by Hindu Undivided Family (HUF), where the family members of three successive generations own the business jointly. The head of the family known as Karta manages the business. The other members are called co-parceners and all of them have equal ownership right over the properties of the business.

The membership of the JHF is acquired by virtue of birth in the same family. There is no restriction for minors to become the members of the business. As per Dayabhaga system of Hindu Law, both male and female members are the joint owners. But Mitakshara system of Hindu Law says only male members of the family can become the coparceners. While the Dayabhaga system is applicable to the state of West Bengal, Mitakshara system of Hindu Law is applicable to the rest of the country.
5.5.1 Characteristics of JHF Form of Business Organisation

From the above discussion, it must have been clear to you that the Joint Hindu family business has certain special characteristics which are as follows:

(a) Formation: In JHF business there must be at least two members in the family, and family should have some ancestral property. It is not created by an agreement but by operation of law.

(b) Legal Status: The JHF business is a jointly owned business. It is governed by the Hindu Succession Act 1956.

(c) Membership: In JHF business outsiders are not allowed to become the coparcener. Only the members of undivided family acquire co-parcenership rights by birth.

(d) Profit Sharing: All coparceners have equal share in the profits of the business.

(e) Management: The business is managed by the senior most member of the family known as Karta. Other members do not have the right to participate in the management. The Karta has the authority to manage the business as per his own will and his ways of managing cannot be questioned. If the coparceners are not satisfied, the only remedy is to get the HUF status of the family dissolved by mutual agreement.

(f) Liability: The liability of coparceners is limited to the extent of their share in the business. But the Karta has an unlimited liability. His personal property can also be utilised to meet the business liability.

(g) Continuity: Death of any coparceners does not affect the continuity of business. Even on the death of the Karta, it continues to exist as the eldest of the coparceners takes position of Karta. However, JHF business can be dissolved either through mutual agreement or by partition suit in the court.

5.5.2 Merits of JHF Form of Business Organisation

Since Joint Hindu Family business has certain peculiar features as discussed above, it has the following merits.

(a) Assured Shares in Profits: Every coparcener is assured of an equal share in the profits irrespective of his participation in the running of the business. This safeguards the interest of minor, sick, physically and mentally challenged coparceners.

(b) Quick Decision: The Karta enjoys full freedom in managing the business. It enables him to take quick decisions without any interference.

(c) Sharing of Knowledge and Experience: A JHF business provides opportunity for the young members of the family to get the benefits of knowledge and experience of the elder members. It also helps in inculcating virtues like discipline, self-sacrifice, tolerance etc.

(d) Limited Liability of Members: The liability of the coparceners except the Karta is limited to the extent of his share in the business. This enables the members to run the business freely just by following the instructions or direction of the Karta.

(e) Unlimited Liability of the Karta: Because of the unlimited liability of the Karta, his personal properties are at stake in case the business fails to pay the creditors. This clause of JHF business makes the Karta to manage business most carefully and efficiently.

(f) Continued Existence: The death or insolvency of any member does not affect the continuity of the business. So it can continue for a long period of time.

(g) Tax Benefits: HUF is regarded as an independent assesse for tax purposes. The share of coparceners is not to be included in their individual income for tax purposes.

After knowing the merits let us see the limitations of Joint Hindu Family form of business organisation.

5.5.3 LIMITATION OF JHF FORM OF BUSINESS ORGANISATION

(a) Limited Resources: JHF business has generally limited financial and managerial resource. Therefore, it is not considered suitable for large business.

(b) Lack of Motivation: The coparceners get equal share in the profits of the business irrespective of their participation. So generally they are not motivated to put in their best.

(c) Scope for Misuse of Power: Since the Karta has absolute freedom to manage the business, there is scope for him to misuse it for his personal gains. Moreover, he may have his own limitations.

(d) Instability: The continuity of JHF business is always under threat. A small rift within the family may lead to seeking partition.

5.5.4 SUITABILITY OF JHF FORM OF BUSINESS ORGANISATION

The Joint Hindu Family form of business organisation is suitable where the family inherits a running business and the members of the family want to continue that business jointly as a family business. Even otherwise, this form of business organisation is considered suitable for a business that requires limited financial and managerial resources and having a very limited area of operation. It is found that JHF are usually engaged in trading business, indigenous banking, small industry, and crafts etc.

5.5.5 FORMATION OF JHF FORM OF BUSINESS ORGANISATION

A Joint Hindu Family business is formed as per the provision of Hindu law. It comes into existence on the death of the person who established the business. His successor automatically become the coparceners if they decide to continue it as a joint family business. The children become its members by birth. The senior most member of the family will become the Karta of the business. No legal formalities are required for its establishment.
But it has to be registered with the Income tax department to avail the tax concessions involved.

   (e) The Karta takes quick decision without any interference.

3. Distinguish between partnership and Joint Hindu Family business on the basis of membership.

5.6 COOPERATIVE SOCIETY

You have learnt about Sole Proprietorship, Partnership and Joint Hindu Family as different forms of business organisation. You must have noticed that while there are many differences among them in respect of their formation, operation, capital contribution and liabilities, there is one similarity that they all are engaged in business to earn profit. However, there are certain organisations which undertake business activities with the prime objective of providing service to the members. Although they also earn some amount of profit, but their main intention is to look after some common interest of its members. They pool available resources from the members, utilise the same in the best possible manner and share the benefits. These organisations are known as Cooperative Societies. Let us learn in detail about this form of business organisation.

The term cooperation is derived from the Latin word ‘co-operari’, where the word ‘Co’ means ‘with’ and ‘operari’ mean ‘to work’. Thus, the term cooperation means working together. So those who want to work together with some common economic objectives can form a society, which is termed as cooperative society.
It is a voluntary association of persons who work together to promote their economic interest. It works on the principle of self-help and mutual help. The primary objective is to provide support to the members. People come forward as a group, pool their individual resources, utilise them in the best possible manner and derive some common benefits out of it.

The Section 4 of the Indian Cooperative Societies Act 1912 defines Cooperative Society as “a society, which has its objectives for the promotion of economic interests of its members in accordance with cooperative principles.”

5.6.1 CHARACTERISTICS OF COOPERATIVE SOCIETY

Based on the above definition we can identify the following characteristics of cooperative society form of business organisation:

(a) Voluntary Association: Members join the cooperative society voluntarily i.e., by their own choice. Persons having common economic objective can join the society as and when they like, continue as long as they like and leave the society and when they want.

(b) Open Membership: The membership is open to all those having a common economic interest. Any person can become a member irrespective of his/her caste, creed, religion, colour, sex etc.

(c) Number of Members: A minimum of 10 members are required to form a cooperative society. In case of multi-state cooperative societies the minimum number of members should be 50 from each state in case the members are individuals. The Cooperative Society Act does not specify the maximum number of members for any cooperative society. However, after the formation of the society, the member may specify the maximum member of members.

(d) Registration of the Society: In India, cooperative societies are registered under the Cooperative Societies Act 1912 or under the State Cooperative Societies Act. The Multi-state Cooperative Societies are registered under the Multi-state Cooperative Societies Act 2002. Once registered, the society becomes a separate legal entity and attain certain characteristics. These are as follows.

   (i) The society enjoys perpetual succession
   (ii) It has its own common seal
   (iii) It can enter into agreements with others
   (iv) It can sue others in a court of law
   (v) It can own properties in its name

(e) State Control: Since registration of cooperative societies is compulsory, every cooperative society comes under the control and supervision of the government. The cooperative department keeps a watch on the functioning of the societies. Every society has to get its accounts audited from the cooperative department of the government.

(f) Capital: The capital of the cooperative society is contributed by its members. Since, the members contribution is very limited, it often depends on the loan from government and apex cooperative institutions or by way of grants and assistance from state and Central Government.

(g) Democratic Set Up: The cooperative societies are managed in a democratic manner. Every member has a right to take part in the management of the society. However, the society elects a managing committee for its effective management. The members of the managing committee are elected on the basis of one-man one-vote irrespective of the number of shares held by any member. It is the general body of the society which lays down the broad framework within which the managing committee functions.

(h) Service Motive: The primary objective of all cooperative societies is to provide services to its members.

(i) Return on Capital Investment: The members get return on their capital investment in the form of dividend.

(j) Distribution of Surplus: After giving a limited dividend to the members of the society, the surplus profit is distributed in the form of bonus, keeping aside a certain percentage as reserve and for general welfare of the society.

5.6.2 Types of Cooperative Societies

You know cooperative organisations are set up in different fields to promote the economic well-being of different sections of the society. So, according to the needs of the people, we find different types of cooperative societies in India. Some of the important types are given below.

(a) Consumers’ Cooperative Societies: These societies are formed to protect the interest of consumers by making available consumer goods of high quality at reasonable price.

(b) Producer’s Cooperative Societies: These societies are formed to protect the interest of small producers and artisans by making available items of their need for production, like raw materials, tools and equipments etc.

(c) Marketing Cooperative Societies: To solve the problem of marketing the products, small producers join hand to form marketing cooperative societies.

(d) Housing Cooperative Societies: To provide residential houses to the members, housing cooperative societies are formed generally in urban areas.

(e) Farming Cooperative Societies: These societies are formed by the small farmers to get the benefit of large-scale farming.

(f) Credit Cooperative Societies: These societies are started by persons who are in need of credit. They accept deposits from the members and grant them loans at reasonable rate of interest.
Based on the above discussion as well as your understanding so far about the cooperative society form of business organisation, now you can try to fill up the following table.

5.6.3 Merits of Cooperative Society

The cooperative society is the only form of business organisation which gives utmost importance to its members rather than maximising its own profits. After studying its characteristics and different types, we may now study the merits of this form of business organisation.

(a) Easy to Form: Any ten adult members can voluntarily form an association get it registered with the Registrar of Cooperative Societies. The registration is very simple and it does not require much legal formalities.

(b) Limited Liability: The liability of the members of the cooperative societies is limited upto their capital contribution. They are not personally liable for the debt of the society.

(c) Open Membership: Any competent like-minded person can join the cooperative society any time he likes. There is no restriction on the grounds of caste, creed, gender, colour etc. The time of entry and exit is also generally kept open.

(d) State Assistance: The need for country’s growth has necessitated the growth of the economic status of the weaker sections. Therefore, cooperative societies always get assistance in the forms of loans, grants, subsidies etc. from the state as well as Central Government.

(e) Stable Life: The cooperative society enjoys the benefit of perpetual succession. The death, resignation, insolvency of any member does not affect the existence of the society because of its separate legal entity.

(f) Tax Concession: To encourage people to form co-operative societies the government generally provides tax concessions and exemptions, which keep on changing from time to time.

(g) Democratic Management: The cooperative societies are managed by the Managing Committee, which is elected by the members. The members decide their own rules and regulations within the limits set by the law.

5.6.4 Limitations of Cooperative Society

Although the basic aim of forming a cooperative society is to develop a system of mutual help and cooperation among its members, yet the feeling of cooperation does not remain for long. Cooperative societies usually suffer from the following limitations.

(a) Limited Capital: Most of the cooperative societies suffer from lack of capital. Since the members of the society come from a limited area or class and usually have limited means, it is not possible to collect huge capital from them. Again, government’s assistance is often inadequate for them.

(b) Lack of Managerial Expertise: The Managing Committee of a cooperative society is not always able to manage the society in an effective and efficient way due to lack of managerial expertise. Again due to lack of funds they are also not able to derive the benefits of professional management.

(c) Less Motivation: Since the rate of return on capital investment is less, the members do not always feel involved in the affairs of the society.

(d) Lack of Interest: Once the first wave of enthusiasm to start and run the business is exhausted, intrigue and factionalism arise among members. This makes the cooperative lifeless and inactive.

(e) Corruption: Inspite of government’s regulation and periodical audit of the accounts of the cooperative society, the corrupt practices in the management cannot be completely ignored.

5.6.5 Suitability of Cooperative Society

You have already learnt that cooperative society form of business organisations is a voluntary association of person who are not financially strong and cannot stand on their own legs to start and run the business individually. So to solve the common problem or to meet the common requirements this form of business organisation is most suitable. Thus, people can join hands to get the consumer products, to build residential houses, for marketing the products, to provide loans and advances etc. This form of business organisation is generally suitable for small and medium size business operation.

5.6.6 FORMATION OF COOPERATIVE SOCIETY

A cooperative society can be formed as per the provisions of the Cooperative Societies Act, 1912, or under the Cooperative Societies Acts of the respective states. The various common requirements prescribed for registration of a cooperative society are as follows:

(a) There must be at least ten persons having common economic interest and must be capable of entering into contract. For multi-state cooperative societies at least 50 individual members from each state should be present.

(b) A suitable name should be proposed for the society.

(c) The draft bye-laws of the society should be prepared.

(d) After completing the above formalities, the society should go for its registration.

(e) For registration, application in prescribed form should be made to the Registrar of Cooperative Societies of the state in which the society is to be formed.

(f) The application for registration shall be accompanied by four copies of the proposed bye-laws of the society.

(g) The application must be signed by every member of the society.

(h) After scrutinising of the application and the bye-laws, the registrar issues the registration certificate.

(i) The society can start its operation after getting the certificate of registration.

5.7 What You Have Learnt

On the basis of ownership and management there are different forms of business organisation. They are Sole Proprietorship, Partnership, Joint Hindu Family, Cooperative Society and Joint Stock Company.

Sole proprietorship refers to a form of business organisation where a single individual owns and manages the business. He/she takes the profits and bears the losses. Merits of this form of business organisation include, easy to form and wind up, quick decision and prompt action, direct motivation, flexibility in operation. The businessman himself can give personal touch to each and every matter of the business that enables him to maintain the secrets of his business. Inspite of all these merits, this form also suffers from the limitations of limited resources, lack of continuity, unlimited liability of the owner, limited managerial expertise. This form is not suitable for large-scale operations.

Partnership is a form of business organisation in which two or more competent persons join hands to carry on any lawful business after entering into an agreement to share the profit and loss of the business. A partnership firm is easy to form and also flexible in its operation. It pools resources from the partners, makes their optimum utilisation by taking better decisions. It protects the interest of each and every partner and gets benefit out of the specialised knowledge and skills of individual partner. Since partners share the profits and losses they show keen interest in the affairs of the business. The major limitations of partnership form of business organisation are: unlimited liability, instability, limited capital, non-transferability of share and lack of harmony among the partners.

In partnership firm we find different types of partners like Active partners, Sleeping partners, Nominal partners, Partners in profits, Limited partners, General partners. Partners by Estoppel and Partners by holding out.

Joint Hindu Family form of business organisation is governed by Hindu Law. The members of the Hindu undivided family jointly own the business and the eldest member called Karta manages the business in the best possible manner. Every member called co-parcener gets an assured share in profit irrespective of their participation. The liability of co-parceners except the Karta is limited. The death or insolvency of any member does not affect the continuity of the business. This form of business organisation too suffers from certain limitations like limited resources, lack of motivation, scope for misuse of power by Karta and instability.

Cooperative society is a voluntary association of persons who work together to promote their economic interest. It works on the principle of self-help and mutual help. The membership of cooperative societies is voluntary and open to all. It has separate legal existence and is democratically managed. The cooperative societies are easy to form and have a stable life. They get assistance from the government in the form of loan, grants and subsidies. The government also provides tax concession. The liability of the members is limited upto their capital contribution. Inspite of all these advantages, it also suffers from various limitations like insufficient capital, lack of managerial expertise. There is also lack of motivation in members due to absence of direct reward for individual effort.

According to the need of the people we find different types of cooperative societies in our country. Some of the important types are – Consumers cooperative societies, Producers’ cooperative societies, Marketing cooperative societies, Housing cooperative societies, Farming cooperative societies and credit cooperative societies.

Suitability: Sole proprietorship is suitable for simple business involving less capital and low risk. Business requiring manual skill like handicraft, filigree work, jewelry etc. are generally organised the form of sole proprietorship. Partnership form of business is suitable for construction business, providing legal services, medical services etc. It is also suitable where capital requirement is medium. Business like wholesale trade, professional services, mercantile houses and small manufacturing units can be run in partnership form. Joint Hindu Family form of business organisation is suitable where the family inherits a running business and the members want to continue the business jointly. It is generally found that some of the trading business, banking and finance in unorganised sector, small industry, art and crafts etc. are run in the form of Joint Hindu family business. Cooperative Society form of business organisation is generally started to solve the common economic problems or to meet the common requirements of the weaker sections of the community. It is suitable for getting consumer goods at cheaper price, building houses, marketing products, providing loans and advances to the members etc.

Formation: The formation of Sole Proprietorship form of business organisation does not require any specific legal formalities except where permission of the local authority is required to be obtained. In partnership, a simple agreement is enough to start a business. The registration of the firm is also not compulsory. A Joint Hindu Family business is formed as per the provisions of the Hindu Law. No specific legal formalities are required for establishing the business. However, a simple registration with the income tax department is required. A cooperative society follows the provisions of the Cooperative Societies Act for its registration. It is mandatory for each society to be registered with the Registrar of Cooperative Societies. After the registration, the society becomes a body corporate with separate legal entity and enjoys perpetual succession.
